CURRENT POSITION

Vicerector for Research and Innovation

Since November 2022

Escuela Superior Politécnica del Litoral

EDUCATION

Ph.D. Candidate, Software Engineering École de technologié supérieure, Montréal – Canada Emphasis: business process modeling	2012
Graduate Certificate in Innovation, Capital and Technology IC2 Institute of University of Texas at Austin in cooperation with Escuela de Postgrado en Administración de Empresas (ESPAE – ESPOL)	2002
Master of Science in Electrical Engineering Purdue University Major in Digital communications	1995
Graduate Studies in Business Administration Escuela de Postgrado en Administración de Empresas (ESPAE) - ESPOL	1991
Bachelor of Science in Computer Engineering Escuela Superior Politécnica del Litoral (ESPOL)	1990

Dean of Research 2017/11 -2022/11

ESPOL.

Coordinate the research efforts within all the institution. Responsible for part of the research budget for support of the research projects and research personnel. Elaboration of regulations related to research activities. Establishment and monitoring of the research goals and performance indicators.

Director of the Computer Science Doctoral Program

2014/11 -2017/11

Responsible for the elaboration of the doctoral program proposal that was approved by the university board and the national governmental agency. Operation of the program after its approval.

Director of the Center for Software Research, Innovation and Development

2008/07 - 2009/01

Centro de Investigación, Desarrollo e Innovación del Software (CIDIS)

Creator and first director of this research center at Escuela Superior Politécnica del Litoral (ESPOL). The mission of this center is to research in software based systems with an emphasis in knowledge generation and transference to the local industry to support the creation of a technological cluster capable of being worldwide competitive.

Executive Director of the National Research and Education Network

2007/04 - 2008/12

Consorcio Ecuatoriano para el Desarrollo de Internet Avanzado (CEDIA)

Director of the Ecuadorian NREN which at that moment agglutinated twenty science and technology institutions, most of them universities and polytechnic institutes. CEDIA is part of the Cooperación Latino Americana de Redes Avanzadas (CLARA), organism in charge of the Latin American Advanced Network. CEDIA promotes and coordinates the development of the Ecuadorian advanced network as a support for science, technology, innovation and education in Ecuador.

ESPOL - SUPSI - RETECA Agreement Coordinator

2005 - 2008

Escuela Superior Politécnica del Litoral

The RETECA foundation supports young engineers from developing countries in performing applied research during a stay at the University of Applied Sciences of Southern Switzerland (SUPSI) in the field of electrical engineering or in related areas. The scope is to train these young engineers in such a way that the acquired competencies will bear fruit after their return to their countries of origin.

Professor 1995/06 - present

Escuela Superior Politécnica del Litoral, Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering. Full Professor since October the 31st of 2002. Obliged to teach at least one course, complemented with research, administrative and services activities.

- Member of the Department team for ABET accreditation.
- · President of the Rector & Vice Rectors Elections Board
- Member of the Faculty Union Board

LaBioProc Project Coordinator

2005-2007

Escuela Superior Politécnica del Litoral.

International cooperation project financed by the ALFA program of the European Commission. An academic network was created to develop knowledge in Bioprocesses Control Theory. A main goal of this project was to develop an international Master of Science program for students from all the universities members of the formed network. The leader of the project was University of Ghent. Besides ESPOL and University of Ghent, the other members of the network were: Universidad de Caixas from Brazil (UCS), Coruniversitaria from Colombia, Technical University of Denmark (DTU), French National Institute for Agricultural Research (INRA), and Instituto Superior Técnico (IST) from the Technical University of Lisbon.

Dean 2003/03 - 2006/03

Escuela Superior Politécnica del Litoral, Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering. Managed all the academic and administrative issues of the Department. The E&C Department is the biggest one at ESPOL.

- Developed the Master of Engineering Program in Industrial Control Processes.
- Developed the Telematics Engineering Program.
- Got the ISO Certification for all the undergraduate processes of the Department
- Member of ESPOL Council

- Created the Computer Vision and Robotics Center
- · Labs created: Digital Telecommunications, Microcontrollers, and Automated Control Systems.

Under Dean 1999/11 – 2003/03

Escuela Superior Politécnica del Litoral, Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering. Responsible of all the academic issues of the Department.

- Developed the Multimedia Systems Engineering Program.
- Created of the Software Development Center
- President of the Permanent Academic Commission of ESPOL
- Member of ESPOL Council
- · Created the Software Engineering Lab.

LASPAU Instructor 2001-2002

Academic and Professional Programs for the America (LASPAU)

LASPAU is a nonprofit organization affiliated with Harvard University and governed by an independent, inter-American board of trustees.

 One of the instructors for the international seminar "Estrategias Para la Integración de las Nuevas Tecnologías de Información en la Educación Superior" that was offered to academic directors and professors of Latin American universities.

Undergraduate Program Chair

1995/06 - 1999/11

Computer Engineering Program, Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering. Direct responsible of all the academic and administrative issues of the program.

Computer Center Officer

1990/01 - 1991/07, 1995/05 -1997/07

Computer Services Center, ESPOL.

Chief of the Technical Department of the Center. This department planned and operated all the systems interconnection, preventive and corrective maintenance of the hardware systems, technical support for all the administration of the institution, acquisition of new computer systems, data communications systems.

IADB -ESPOL Supervisor

1991/09 - 1993/03

Escuela Superior Politécnica del Litoral.

Project funded by IADB to build the new ESPOL campus, and to develop laboratories, technological and faculty capacities at ESPOL.

- Supervised the implementation of the new Voice and Data Communications System at ESPOL.
 This included the PABX system, its integration to the mainframe architecture, and the installation of a new telephone and data network all around the campus.
- Created and managed the Voice and Data Services office at ESPOL

Assistant Professor 1991 - 1992

Universidad Católica Santiago de Guayaquil. Engineering School.

Taught Data Structures course

OTHER RESEARCH ACTIVITIES

Committee Chair

Jornadas de Sistemas de Telecomunicaciones (JST)

2007

First Ecuadorian Telecommunications Conference with an international scope. It received contributions from Spain, Colombia, Argentina, and Perú.

Committees

Jornadas de Sistemas de Telecomunicaciones (JST)

2008

2008

Member of the Technical Committee and Reviewer

Jornadas Iberoamericanas de Ingeniería del Software y del Conocimiento (JIISIC)

This Hispano-American conference has become the international meeting of scientists, technicians and professionals devoted to Software Engineering and Knowledge Engineering study and research.

Conferencia Técnica de la Región Andina del IEEE (ANDESCON) Member of the Technical Committee ANDESCON is the main technical IEEE event for the Andean countries of Region 9	2006
I, II & III Jornadas de Ingeniería del Software Operating Committee	2004 - 2006
Jornadas de Investigación ESPOLCiencias Operating Committee	2002

HONORS, AWARDS & FUNDINGS

Computer Society Distinguished Visitor for LATAM

2014-2016

IEEE Computer Society

The Distinguished Visitors Program (DVP) of IEEE has been operating since 1971 to offer to the Computer Society chapters the opportunity to have Access to high quality speakers.

Governor General's Gold Medal

2013

École de technologie supérieure (ETS)

This medal is presented on behalf of the Governor General of Canada to recognize outstanding scholastic achievements at a graduate level. It is the most prestigious recognition awarded to postgraduate students in Canada.

Best Oral Presentation Award

November 2012

Software Requirements Session of the Software Track IECON 2012

Award granted by the Technical Committee of the IECON 2012 Conference to the best oral presentation of research work during the session.

Recognition of Institutional Merit

October 2007

Escuela Superior Politécnica del Litoral

Recognition awarded by ESPOL's Council to a faculty member who has demonstrated an outstanding academic life, serviced at different levels of administrative functions, and unconditionally supported ESPOL to fulfill all its goals.

ITU – CISCO Grant 2001

International Telecommunications Union and CISCO

A whole CCNA lab package was received (commercial value: $10.000) as part of the Internet Training Centers program of the International Telecommunications Union. This program grants funding to universities from developing countries to build high-tech training centers.

Honor Diploma Several years

Escuela Superior Politécnica del Litoral

Annual recognition for teaching merits of faculty members. It is awarded to the best teachers of each department according to the student evaluations during a whole academic year.

Fulbright LASPAU Scholarship

1993

Fulbright Faculty Development Program

Scholarship for studying at Purdue University, West Lafayette - Indiana. It covered all tuition, fees, insurance and living expenses for the whole period of the Master of Science program.
